

When user enters the search box a info pop up to highlight the search options.

This should not come up the whole time. Once the user click the drop down is should not be shown again to that user.

User removes the operator where.

The dropdown is no longer available

User edits the attribute Tac

The dropdown is no longer available